Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 17-21 and 40-57 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 10072003.
2. It is noted that claims 40-57 have been added, ostensibly as depending from claim 1. However, a method claim cannot depend from an apparatus claim. They are considered to be method claims under Group III of the Restriction Requirement. As Group III is a non-elected invention, they are withdrawn from consideration.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 8 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form.

Claim 8 recites a method step "wherein said gas is introduced into said manifold at a pressure of about 60 to about 80 psi." However, claim 8 is dependent upon claim 6, an apparatus claim. A method claim does not properly limit an apparatus claim and therefore, claim 8 is in improper dependent form.

Double Patenting

4. Applicant is advised that should claim 5 be found allowable, claim 16 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

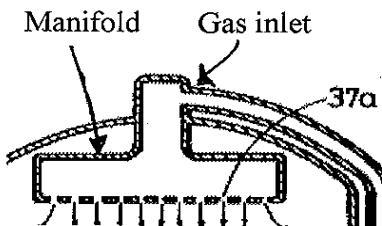

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1, 3-6, 8, 15, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takagi (U.S. Patent No. 6,248,672).

With respect to claims 1, 5, 6, and 16, Takagi teaches an apparatus for storing a plurality of vertical supports 8 wherein the apparatus includes a mechanism 2 for diffusively introducing pressurized gas into the apparatus, an outlet element having a plurality of openings 37a in fluid communication with the mechanism, and a holding chamber 1 disposed such that gas flow therethrough is substantially uniform, the holding chamber having an opening for removing the supports 8 and a plurality of elements 34,39 for holding the supports. See Figures 11-13. As to the intended use recitation in the preamble, “for storing a plurality of supports having a plurality of chemical compounds/biopolymers bound thereto at individual sites thereon,” a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. See In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

As to claims 3, 4, and 15, the mechanism 2 includes a gas inlet and a manifold comprising one compartment in fluid communication with the gas inlet. The gas inlet is perpendicular to the axis of the openings 37a in the outlet element. See illustration below.

With respect to claim 8, the apparatus for Takagi is certainly capable of introducing gas at a pressure of 60-80 psi.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takegi.

As to limitations relating to dimensions of the outlet element, it is generally held that such limitations are not patentably significant since they at most relate to the size of the article under consideration, which is not ordinarily a matter of invention. In re Yount, 36 C.C.P.A. (Patents) 775, 171 F.2d 317, 80 USPQ 141.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 2, 7, and 11-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:
Although Takegi teaches an apertured 37a element for dispersing air, a separate flow-straightening element is not disclosed. Moreover, Takegi neither teaches nor suggests that the gas inlet comprises a valve.
